

Carbon

C

6

Known since ancient times

Recognized as an element in the second half of the 18th century. French scientist Antoine Lavoisier named carbon in 1789

Carbon black was the first pigment being used for tattooing

Carbon derived its name from the Latin word 'carbo' meaning charcoal

Starting from a chunk of coal to that shining diamond- More compounds are known that contain carbon than don't