

Discovered in 1789

Discovered by Martin Heinrich
Klaproth

Uranium-235 is the only naturally
occurring fissionable
fuel- the one that can sustain a chain
reaction

Uranium was named after the planet Uranus

Uranium

U

92

With a nucleus packed with 92 protons, Uranium is the heaviest of the naturally occurring elements in the universe.